Get your granary built before threshing.

Most of the grain will yield more than the farmers are expecting, according to reports coming in from districts where grain has been threshed; therefore you had better stick up another bin or granary.

Lumber is steadily advancing in price—buy early and save the big $8882.

Private Sanford Leitch was down on Sunday from Calgary to say the last goodbye to his parents. Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Leitch, and his many friends. He left for Somewhere with the 113th on Monday. The best wishes of a host of well wishers follow Sanford in the brave choice he has made.

As the News goes to press we are advised that all members of the 175th Battalion are called back immediately to Barco Camp, as this battalion is about to leave for Overseas. The News cannot give details, as the censorship on items like this is severe. Next week we will try and give a full list of the boys of the 175th from this district. It is the district battalion and was recruited at Medicine Hat under command of Col. Nelson Spencer.

J. J. Lemna, of Tripola, was in town on Monday.

The Ladies' Aid will again serve luncheon in the old jewelry store on Saturday, Sept. 23rd.

Word comes from Jenner that on Sunday evening, Sept. 10th, there was a serious fire in the Union bank there. It was thought to have started from the explosion of a gasoline lamp. The interior walls of the building were badly scorched, and the furniture completely destroyed. Messrs. Bond and Shantz, who room in the building, lost all their personal effects, and Col. O. T. Goff, who had a quantity of clothes there, was also a sufferer. The books and records of the bank were fortunately saved. It is said that $600 will not cover the total loss. Personally we sympathize with "Bunny" if he lost his art collection. It certainly contained many works from modern masters.

SUFFIELD FAIR.

This number of the News might be designated the Suffield Fair Number. We are led to congratulate our neighbors of the sister town on the enterprise they are showing in the very extensive undertaking they have on their hands at present. The dates of the Fair are Tuesday and Wednesday, October 3rd and 4th. Of course the bulk of the crowd that the Fair is bound to draw will come from Alderson and district, but as it will undoubtedly be the biggest affair of its kind ever staged in the district up to the present year, it will be a great success if the weather man is kind. In conversation with different parties one and all say they will be there. A move is also for the local stores to close on one of the days of the Fair. This will likely be arranged next week. The consensus of opinion being that the last afternoon (Wednesday) would be the best, as the exhibits should be complete on that date. Here is hoping the big district Fair will be entirely successful.

WORTHY OF PRAISE.

We congratulate Manager Moore on the attractive programmes he is giving every Tuesday and Friday evenings at the Alderson Picture House. He announces that for Friday evening, September 29th, he will feature Charles Chaplin in one of his latest successes, "The Fireman." These pictures are naturally expensive, and the admission that evening will be Adults 35 cents, Children 25 cents.

The Threshers' Lien Act.

Published gratis by the News.

Here every owner or operator of a threshing outfit should read "The Threshers' Lien Act" carefully.

In the first place it provides that every threshing outfit which does not work or threshes his own crop only, must each year before commencing operations register his machine with the Minister of Agriculture, at a cost of $1.00, and procure a certificate of registration which shall be kept posted in a conspicuous place upon the machine or separator during the whole of threshing season. From the wording of the Act it would appear that if the certificate happens to be removed or accidentally lost the owner would have to send and get another certificate. For failure to register his machine the offender loses his right to a lien for his account, and is liable to a penalty not exceeding $25.00.

But some one may ask why a threshing separator should be registered. The question is easily answered. The Noxious Weeds Act provides that every threshing shall thoroughly clean his machine both inside and out, and all his wagon racks, after threshing each setting, and shall clean the grain threshed by him so that it shall not contain more than 100 noxious weed seeds, other than wild oats, in 1000 seeds of grain, and shall display on his machine a card containing the clauses of the Act referred to. For non-compliance with the provisions of the Noxious Weeds Act the threshing is liable to a fine of not less than $5.00 nor more than $50.00 and costs. Everyone will admit that it is in the interests of the country to prevent weeds from spreading, and in order to seal out the weeds and enforce the Act it is necessary for the Department to know who the threshers are. In addition to this, threshers who comply with the Threshers' Lien Act are specially protected in having their bills paid. They come ahead of the merchant who has fed the farmer for six months or more, ahead of the tax gatherer, and the farmer's hired man even. Without lawyers' fees, without court costs, without the use of a warrant or a writ, the threshers' account is safe; and it costs the farmer to secure this protection each year, and in addition to get a copy of the Noxious Weed card and a certificate of registration, the petty sum of $1.00, which goes towards paying the costs incurred in the administration of the Act. Moreover, it is very desirable in the interests of the public that reports of crop returns should be as accurate as possible. Now, if every threshing outfit registers his machine, the Department of Agriculture can write him and get valuable information, statistics and returns that they cannot procure in any other way. In this connection it may be noted that any threshing outfit that fails to send the Department any information required of him is liable to the same penalty as for non-registration of his machine.

If a thresher desires to retain a lien on the grain for his threshing account he has to comply strictly with the conditions set out in the Act:

1. He must have his machine registered.
2. He must satisfy any claim for wages for the threshing he is seizing for.
3. He must give notice of the seizure during or forthwith after the threshing, and separate the retained grain from the bulk.
4. Upon such notice being given he may retain a sufficient quantity of the grain threshed to pay the total cost of threshing during that season, with cost of haulage at 4 cents per hundred pounds for six miles or less, and 5 cents per hundred pounds for each additional mile, provided that the total charge for haulage shall not exceed 20 cents per hundred pounds. There is no provision in the Act for the charging of interest, nor for seizing more than the quantity of grain which would approximately pay the total account for threshing and haulage.

5. He must separate the grain claimed from the bulk threshed and either (a) haul it away and store it in his own name, or (b) leave it in a separate bin on the premises.
6. If he hauls it away and stores it he may sell it at a fair market price after the expiration of fifteen days from the date of detention, retain his account, and the charge for haulage, and give the owner the balance, if any.
7. If he leaves the grain on the premises at the time of detention he must remove it within thirty days, even though the owner may consent to its remaining longer. If he does not remove it after the expiration of the time fixed by the Act for removal.
8. The thresher must also seal retained grain within thirty days, unless the owner consents in writing to the same being held unsold for a longer period.

Some of the threshing account books used by threshers are in two parts. One gives a memorandum of the number of bushels of each kind of grain threshed, price per bushel and total amount, and contains a notice "that the above mentioned grain will be held by the Threshers' Lien until payment of this account in full, with interest at — per cent. per annum after — days from date." This is presumably signed by the thresher and given to the owner.

The counterpart contains a similar memorandum, with acknowledgment of its receipt and of its correctness and agreement to pay the amount in — days from date, or to pay interest at — per cent. per annum from date, followed by "I also acknowledge having received notice of retention of above mentioned grain under 'The Threshers' Lien Act' until payment of this account in full." This is presumably signed by the owner and retained by the thresher. The taking and giving of such memoranda is not a compliance with the provisions of "The Threshers' Lien Act" of Alberta, and if contended the threshers using such forms would be likely to lose their claims. The essentials to a thresher's lien in the Province are: (1) Registration of machine; (2) Notice of retention of sufficient grain to pay the threshing account; and (3) Separation of the grain seized from the bulk of grain threshed.

Free Seed Grain and Potatoes

By instructions of the Hon. Minister of Agriculture a distribution of superior sorts of grain and potatoes will be made during the coming winter and spring to Canadian farmers. The samples for general distribution will consist of spring wheat (about 5 lbs.), white oats (about 4 lbs.), barley (about 6 lbs.), and field peas (about 5 lbs.). These will be sent out from Ottawa. A distribution of potatoes in samples of about 2 lbs. will be carried on from several of the experimental farms, the Central Farm at Ottawa supplying only the provinces of Ontario and Quebec. All samples will be sent free by mail. Only one sample of grain, and one of potatoes can be sent to each farm. As the supply of seed is limited, farmers are advised to apply for their requisites received after the end of December will probably be too late. Anyone desiring a sample should write (post free) to the Dominion Cereals, Experimental Farm, Ottawa, for an application blank.

Buy an Irrigated Farm FROM THE CANADIAN PACIFIC RAILWAY

BECAUSE

Irrigation makes the farmer independent of rain and insures good crops, not occasionally, but every year. Irrigation makes possible the successful culture of alfalfa, the king of fodder, which insures best returns in dairying and mixed farming.

Irrigation means intense farming and close settlement with all the advantages of a densely populated agricultural community.

Irrigation in the Canadian Pacific Railway Irrigation Block is no longer an experiment, the year 1914 having absolutely demonstrated its success wherever intelligently applied.

You can buy irrigated land from the Canadian Pacific Railway at prices ranging from $35 to $75 per acre, with twenty years' to pay and the privilege of a loan of $2,000.00 for improvements (6% interest); no principal payment at the end of first and second years and no water rental for first year. Assistance is also given in supplying stock in approved instances.

This is the most liberal offer of irrigated farm land now record

Women and the Farm

A Mistake to Think That Women
Are Capable of Hard Work

The Weekly Sun, which is published chiefly for the interest of farmers and their wives, deprecates the employment of women in the hard outdoor work of the large farms. The writer acknowledges that many country women do little work in the farm work would be a benefit.

In answer to an older contributor, the writer says that though many of the women among the early settlers took their share of farm work and managed their homes and reared their children lived to a good old age, many others broke down under the strain, and died in what ought to have been the prime of life.

There is much truth in this contention. It is a mistake to think that women can bear as heavy burdens and lift as great weights as men. The plow and the axe are not implements which women should be called on to use.

On the other hand, young women can do much of the lighter work of farm and garden with benefit to their health. The wife and mother who cares for her children and keeps the house has little leisure for farm work, however she may like it.

If the farmer were to employ machinery as he is about buying it for his own occupation, country housekeepers would have more leisure than they have for farm work. It is a woman's duty to help her husband in the true sense of the word. Independence is not natural. Men and women were meant to work together, not only on the farm but in business, in the church and in the state. We should not have needed a law to prove that women's work to support the complement of men's. When it is over there are many who fear that women will insist on occupying the places in which they have found employment, however arduous. Whether this is necessary, or whether those of those who have disabled men to support, the women will doubtless claim the right to earn high wages, the majority of women are content to only to glad to return to their household duties. One thing may be said, and that is that they are not fewer little, useless lives. Tens of thousands of women are doing the housework that comes of service.

Murphy was in the hospital and had undergone an operation. It was recovering he remarked to the doctor on his right.

"I am thankful that's over," he explained.

"At my operation the doctor left the scissors inside and I had to undergo the operation again."

The patient on the left remarked that at his operation the doctor had been left and had to be gone over again.

As they had finished talking the doctor appeared at the door and said: "The scissors are still inside."

It was then that Murphy faints.

Valuable Addition To Canada's Wealth

Stefansson Makes Valuable Contribution to Discoveries in the Arctic Region

The discovery by the Canadian Arctic expedition headed by Vilhjalfr Stefansson of a great field of native caribou in the vicinity of Coppermine River, in the neighborhood of the Arctic Circle, is a discovery of great value to the business world, and a great addition to the Canadian Museum of Natural History. Dr. Stefansson believed also in the value of the caribou in the north for displaying their ingenuity in finding a way out of the region that is still unexplored in a commercial sense.

The work of a region is expected to prove valuable in determining the direction of winds and the movement of ice in the Polar region. Dr. Stefansson said this work might go a long way to prove or disprove the theory that an unknown continent exists in the great unexplored region north of Alaska and west and northwest of Greenland.

The Years That Tell

Critical Years When Character of Youth is Moulded

That is when the greatest changes take place in a boy's life. The ten years between the two ages bring about changes that are never to be repeated. From 25 to 35 makes little difference so far as appearance is concerned, but it is a completely unrecognizable change.

He dropped into the office the other day—a boy he had never seen for ten years. At 15 he was thin and awkward; at 25 he was full rounded and manly. As a boy he was not especially promising—just a plain, ordinary, every day boy.

We find the boy of 25 well up in the world. He is a man of action, many and promising. He has emerged from boyhood into manhood with all the strength and vigor of a young man.

The Call To Help Society

President A. Lawrence Lowell in the Yale Review

Never have I been able to understand the greater reason for these terrible days, when young men, on whom the future so brightly bright with hope, sacrifice from a sense of duty their lives, the welfare of those dearest to them, and everything they care for—less than ever can I understand how any man can stand in safety on a hillside and watch the struggle of life in the plain below without longing to take part therein; how he can see the world pass by without craving to make his mark, however small, on his day and generation. Many a man who would be eager to join a deadly charge if his country were at war, lacks the insight or imagination to perceive that the warfare of civilization is waged not more upon the battlefield, but in the workshop, at the desk, in the laboratory and the library. We have learned in this stress of nations that men cannot fight without armament well made in abundance; but we have not learned that the warfare of civilization is the preparation of young men for the work of the world, not only in the workshop, pattern, tempered and finished to the ideal of a craftsman, but in the ideal of a craftsman that cannot be taught in a workshop. It is a young man will see and turn to a vincible fear.

To The Farmers Of the Vicinity of Alderson

According to instructions from Messrs. Strong & Dowler their Elevator here is being improved to quite an extent, making it more convenient and efficient for the handling of grain.

A Dump Scale has been installed, and the driveway is being lengthened so that a four-horse team will have plenty of room to stand beyond the scale so that a load of grain can be handled just as quickly and easily as in any other elevator.

We take advantage of this opportunity to thank all those who have given us their patronage in the past, and we would also state that the same fair treatment will be given in the future as in the past.

Mr. P. W. Gatenby, who is to have charge for the coming winter, will cheerfully give any information at any time regarding prices or shipments of grain.

Trusting to have a fair share of the patronage of the farmers of this vicinity, we beg to remain,

Yours very truly,

Per Fred W. Hunter. STRONG & DOWLER.
